

Could you use a break?

Let's face it, every once in a while we could all use a break in life. Unfortunate things happen to good people. We lose our jobs, can't pay our bills, we break up or get divorced, our children get sick, we get sick and on and on. Well, I'm here to give you a break. I'm Tom and I have set aside tickets to this event for people that just need a lucky break. E-mail me by going to the Contact Us Page and clicking on the E-mail me button and let me know your situation, if I still have tickets available I'll send you some. Please limit your request to 2 tickets unless you have an extenuating circumstance. This will be our secret. So send me your request and please include your mailing address as that is how you will receive the tickets. Have fun and good luck.

Tom
